

International Capacity Building Seminar Development, teaching & assessment of interprofessional competences

16-18 March, 2016  Ghent, Belgium

Goals

This seminar provides the opportunity to explore and discuss concepts on coaching and supervising students during the process of interprofessional learning. Participants acquire tools and methods to effectively conceptualize courses, learning paths and assessment methods for interprofessional competences. They learn to evaluate and assure the quality of interprofessional courses in health and social care.

Target group

Academics from health & social care departments in higher education institutions (universities and university colleges), professional trainers and coaches in clinical settings.

Trainers

The experts come from four leading institutions who have a long tradition and built-up expertise in interprofessional education: University of Linköping (Sweden), Oulu University of Applied Sciences & University of Oulu (Finland), University of Ljubljana (Slovenia), and Artevelde University College & University of Ghent (Belgium). All experts have authored chapters in the volume Interprofessional Education in Europe: Policy and Practice (2015).

The venue

UNESCO qualifies Ghent as one of the four creative cities of music along with Bologna, Seville and Glasgow: "Ghent with its numerous music festivals integrates music in the fabric of the city, encouraging public participation". Lonely Planet has called the city in 2011 "Europe's best kept secret" and a "must see" destination. National Geographic Traveler Magazine has listed the city as "the most authentic historic city in the world, full of life".

The host

Artevelde University College Ghent is one of Flanders' largest university colleges. It offers a wide variety of study programmes in the fields of teacher training, business, media, health care, and social work. Artevelde University College stimulates outgoing staff and student mobility and warmly welcomes international incoming staff and students. The presence of foreign students and staff is believed to be a significant enrichment, both academically and culturally, for the whole institute. <http://www.arteveldehs.be/international>.

Organizing partners

The COEHRE Academy is a core activity of the Consortium of Higher Education Institutions in Health Care and Rehabilitation. The aim of the Academy is to enhance international, and interdisciplinary cooperation and capacity building among the member institutions. It offers opportunities to create and stimulate networking of institutions and joint initiatives.

EIPEN is the European Interprofessional Practice & Education Network. It aims to develop, stimulate, and share effective interprofessional training, methods and materials for improving collaborative practice in health and social care in Europe. EIPEN is a membership organization of educational and clinical institutions and of individual professionals. Besides organizing biannual conferences the network also takes initiatives for research, training & development.
